Announcement is received of the marriage of Mrs. Rosa Holland, of Elba, and Mr. N. R. Redick, of Bristol, Florida. The ceremony took place May 31, in Dothan with Judge J. A. Long officiating.

The couple will make their home in Bristol, Fla.

AMERICA'S MOST USEFUL DOG BEING SOUGHT

With the thought that it may be located in this section, the Elba Clipper has been asked to help in the Gaines Dog Research Center's quest for "America's Most Useful Dog."

Plans are under way for honoring the winner of the title and his owner during National Dog Week, which will be observed this year, September 21 to 27.

Choice of winner is to be made from nominations submitted to Harry Miller, director, Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y. Complete data, and if possible a picture, should be in before September 10. The actual selection will be in the hands of a committee of prominent dog folk now in process of formation. The number and variety of services the dog performs will constitute the only basis of judging. Pet dogs or working dogs are equally eligible; age, size, color or breed will not be considered.

No one seemed to know whether the first-draw teams had slipped, or the second-draw teams had moved far up. There was no way to tell them apart, except to keep wondering how the tail-end Cardinals stayed where they were, as long as they were allowed to carry bats to the plate.

Anybody's Race Now

We have made a careful check of the long list of games played in recent weeks, and from this roundup, it is impossible to locate a sure first-draw team, or to name a team that can't win the pennant by breaking just a trifle better than even.

Of course, this bizarre state of affairs can't last much longer. One or two teams are pretty sure to stumble over the last element of consistency and move on forward. But no one can tell you who these teams will be.

The once ridiculed Giants suddenly rushed in with the best of defense in either league, backed up by greatly improved pitching. Picked by many as retreating talerders, they have been the best all-around team in baseball through the last few weeks. Nel Ott is due a number of rousing cheers for the late stand his blued men have made against some rasping luck, where the ball they have been playing most of May could easily win the National League flag.

Tigers and Red Sox have made American League races the more consistent scramble with the Indians crowding in. The Red Sox are far from their stammering form of last season. The Tigers are now favored as the best team in the circuit—certainly the team backed up with the best pitching, which is a pretty vital matter.

Joe Gordon, as one could figure in advance, has been one of the main factors in Cleveland's challenge—once more the Garden City ranked high among the best.

It should be Tigers or Red Sox in the American League race. The Cardinals are more the team to watch in the bewildered rival circuit.

BASEBALL has known over seventy-five spring starts, but in all that time Dr. Abner Doubleday's discovery has never before known the tangled knot that belongs to the National League race of 1947.

As a starter, the National League still has a 3 to 5 shot trailing the A's.

Eight National League managers are reeling around with the look that follows the arrival of a host of new players.

They find a check of nearly 200 hitters swinging savagely at a 122 clip, often lucky to get a foul. It is a struggle to see pitchers hand out 4 or 5 passes in one inning, forcing over important runs. Star pitchers are far behind the 30-30 mark, struggling desperately to last three innings.

No one seemed to know whether the first-draw teams had slipped, or the second-draw teams had moved far up. There was no way to tell them apart, except to keep wondering how the tail-end Cardinals stayed where they were, as long as they were allowed to carry bats to the plate.

STATE VETERANS DEPT.

of 60 other types of services upon which assistance is available in Alabama.

The benefits afforded to the veterans of Alabama by the Department of Veterans Affairs are the only aid provided by the State involving a cash outlay.

According to the statement of the Department of Finance, the total sum expended by the state for all purposes for 1946 was about $126,000,000. The Department budget was $350,000, which amounted to less than one-third of one per cent of total expenditure. This would amount to less than $1.00 annually for each of Alabama's more than 350,000 veterans. The Department this year will require about $500,000 for existing services and needed increases in salaries of County Service Commissioners and Clerical Personnel, in keeping with the higher cost of living and for badly needed additional personnel and services. It must be borne in mind that there is no school at which training in veterans' claims work can be had, while the work must necessarily be handled by specialists.

The United States Congress has enacted laws for the benefit of veterans but the obtaining of such benefits is not automatic in any sense of the word. Claims must be prosecuted by an advocate of the veteran, and that advocate must be a trained specialist.

The Department maintains offices in all of the 67 counties of Alabama, with the office of each County Service Commissioner usually located in the county court house, and easily accessible to all veterans and their dependents. Many lives have been saved by the immediate accessibility of County Service Commissioners, who possess the "know-how" in processing claims for veterans in cases of emergency.

It does not "just happen" that veterans are better advantage of their educational opportunities in Alabama than any other state in the South. The records of the Department of Veterans Affairs abundantly prove its worth by these accomplishments.

leading candidates will have been seen and investigated, Mr. Miller states.

The harvesting of blue lupine seed is about completed, and yields above 1,000 pounds per acre were obtained by several farmers cooperating with the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District. However, most yields were reduced by disease and unfavorable weather, and the total production of lupine seed in the county was only approximately 100 tons as compared with 150 tons last year.

The number of farmers saving lupine seed this year over doubled the total of last year. District Cooperators harvesting lupine were S. O. Parker and F. M. Meek of the Basin community; M. W. Donaldson and J. W. Grimes of the Curtis community; and A. L. Montes, Robert Conner, T. B. Byrd and Sam Paschal of the Enterprise community. Many non-cooperators were also assisted by Soil Conservation

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in finding your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach, a vital peristaltic wave must normally break up certain food particles, use the energy of the stomach muscles to help the food pass through the stomach, and condition loss of appetite, underweight, and other symptoms.

To get relief you must increase the flow of this vital peristaltic wave. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is extremely effective in increasing the flow of this vital peristaltic wave, and when it is too little or weak due to a non-peristaltic stomach disturbance, which contains special and potent active ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic builds up non-peristaltic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this peristaltic wave, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, and live better.

HOUSE COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS REDUCTION IN ACP PROGRAM FUNDS

The following is quoted from a telegram sent to County Offices by Mr. A. W. Jones, State Director of the Production and Marketing Administration.

"House Appropriation Committee report recommends a reduction in 1947 ACP program funds from $301,720,000 to $165,614,290. As of today take the following action: Issue no purchase orders for conservation materials and services, cancel purchase orders in hands of farmers and vendors on which work has not been started in the case of services, and on which delivery has not been made in the case of materials and seeds. And issue no further prior approvals. Take necessary steps to immediately stop all other work now being done on prior approvals previously issued."

Mr. W. F. Baker, County Administrator in determining when to harvest the lupine seed, how to cut the seed, etc.

The seed cleaning purchased by the Enterprise Rotary Club is now in use, and farmers who want to use it to clean their lupine or oats should contact one of the following members of the Agricultural Committee: Willie Reeder, Vocational Ag. Teacher, J. R. Speed, County Agent, or Louie Edwards, Soil Conservationist.

More farmers should follow the example of Grafton Young, Sam Paschal and Tom Finlay and plant some oats for harvesting. Mr. Young harvested part of his crop and grazed the remainder. Either of these practices produces a good crop of grain, the stubble and straw add organic matter to the soil, and the land is protected from erosion during the winter and spring when the rainfall is unusually heavy.

Grain sorghum can be planted after oats or lupines have been harvested and still more grain produced. The best planting dates for Coffee County are between June 15 and July 1, and the sorghum can be combined, grazed or cut and shocked.

JUDAH'S APPROACHING DOOM
Lesson Text—Jeremiah 36:2, 3.
Bolt. II Kings 24:14.
MEMORY SELECTION: The fear of the Lord proleptically here, but the Jews of the wicked shall be shortened.—Proverbs 10:27.

The decline of a nation from strength and glory to weakness and shame is always a sad thing to contemplate. Still worse is the evident cause of such decay in the sinfulness of the people and their stubborn rejection of God's mercy and grace.

The religious reforms in Judah under Josiah were only temporary in their effect on the people, partly because of their own insincerity, and partly because Judah was soon assailed in battle. Yet God did not leave his wandering people without good counsel, for it was in those days that the great prophet Jeremiah ministered. He had been the helper of Josiah in his good purposes, now he continued to plead with Judah to submit themselves to God and to his will.

His efforts proved to be fruitless as far as Judah was concerned, for we see that

1. Judah Would Not Respond to God's Mercy (Jer. 36:2, 3).
God commanded his prophet to write down his words in order that the people might not only know the inevitable impending judgment, but also be reminded of God's desire that they should turn from their evil ways and be forgiven.

2. Judah Would Not Receive God's Word (Jer. 36:31-33).
At God's command Jeremiah and his scribe Baruch had prepared the scroll with God's Word upon it. One of the nation's leaders was moved by it, and through his urging, the scroll was read to the attention of the king.

3. Judah Would Not Recognize God's Providence (II Kings 24:14).
Jehoiakim had become the vassal of Babylon, but after three years he decided to try to throw off the yoke of his oppressor, Nebuchadnezzar. He was not able at the time to deal with the situation, and so he incited marauding bands from various other nations to harass Judah.

4. Judah Would Not Repent (Jer. 36:31-33).
We see, however, that this came about at the commandment of God (vv. 2, 3). Evidently he was now using the distressing experiences of life to turn Judah back to him; but once again it proved to be in vain.

God does deal with men through what we call his providences, and these may include not only his mercies, but his chastisement. Trouble and sorrow may be God's means of leading us to the place of repentance and blessing.

Lesson Text—Jeremiah 36:2, 3.
Bolt. II Kings 24:14.
MEMORY SELECTION: The fear of the Lord proleptically here, but the Jews of the wicked shall be shortened.—Proverbs 10:27.

The decline of a nation from strength and glory to weakness and shame is always a sad thing to contemplate. Still worse is the evident cause of such decay in the sinfulness of the people and their stubborn rejection of God's mercy and grace.

The religious reforms in Judah under Josiah were only temporary in their effect on the people, partly because of their own insincerity, and partly because Judah was soon assailed in battle. Yet God did not leave his wandering people without good counsel, for it was in those days that the great prophet Jeremiah ministered. He had been the helper of Josiah in his good purposes, now he continued to plead with Judah to submit themselves to God and to his will.

His efforts proved to be fruitless as far as Judah was concerned, for we see that

1. Judah Would Not Respond to God's Mercy (Jer. 36:2, 3).
God commanded his prophet to write down his words in order that the people might not only know the inevitable impending judgment, but also be reminded of God's desire that they should turn from their evil ways and be forgiven.

2. Judah Would Not Receive God's Word (Jer. 36:31-33).
At God's command Jeremiah and his scribe Baruch had prepared the scroll with God's Word upon it. One of the nation's leaders was moved by it, and through his urging, the scroll was read to the attention of the king.

3. Judah Would Not Recognize God's Providence (II Kings 24:14).
Jehoiakim had become the vassal of Babylon, but after three years he decided to try to throw off the yoke of his oppressor, Nebuchadnezzar. He was not able at the time to deal with the situation, and so he incited marauding bands from various other nations to harass Judah.

4. Judah Would Not Repent (Jer. 36:31-33).
We see, however, that this came about at the commandment of God (vv. 2, 3). Evidently he was now using the distressing experiences of life to turn Judah back to him; but once again it proved to be in vain.

God does deal with men through what we call his providences, and these may include not only his mercies, but his chastisement. Trouble and sorrow may be God's means of leading us to the place of repentance and blessing.

Since then he has worked in several of the Elberton mills and now is a loom fixer in the bedspread mill—a highly skilled occupation. He has always taken a part in community affairs. Other than playing the drum, his personal accomplishments are many and varied.

Go to his home—the house he bought when the company turned over their houses to the employees. He shows you one of the radio sets that he built himself. He shows you some of his work as a photographer. A trick picture he has shows him watching himself cut down a tree. The fact is, anything he does he seems to do it well.

The grass had scarcely sprung on his grave before attorney Jenkins was out courting another woman.

"Well," remarked one of his neighbors to another, "I see Jenkins is already looking for a second wife."

"Yes," rejoined the other, "that's just like a lawyer—moving for a second trial."

REALLY LAZY

The bewickered mountaineer sat down on the pine straw, giving no mind to the doleful howls of a red hound that crunched beside him.

A passerby paused. "Something's wrong with that fellow," he said. "Aren't you going to do something for him?"

"There's nothing much the matter with him," was the slow reply. "He's jes' sittin' on a burr an' he's too lazy to get off'n it."

Perfect Example
"Those fellows who don't understand us better than I had realized," observed Mr. Jenkins, looking up from his shaving mirror.

"Really?" replied Mrs. Jenkins. "Yes," said Mr. Jenkins, "that fellow down at Town Hall last night said that Americans didn't know how to spend their leisure, and then he proved it."

"How did he do that, dear?" "It says here," explained Mr. Jenkins, pointing to a newspaper, "that the house was packed."

Centurionist

"Well," explained the first fellow, "they've got to straddle a fence, keep their fingers on the nation's pulse, point with pride and look to the future while keeping both ears to the ground."
